Distributor / OEM certify as follows:

1. We are providing this certification to AMETEK in lieu of completing AMETEK's standard End User and End Use statement because we buy products from AMETEK for inventory stocking purposes and are not purchasing products from AMETEK for resale to specific end users and / or for specific end uses. As such, AMETEK's export compliance responsibilities will terminate with Distributor / OEM and Distributor / OEM will be solely responsible for insuring full compliance with all relevant US export and sanction laws and regulations when Distributor / OEM transfers or resales or re-exports to a third party those Product(s) that Distributor / OEM purchases from AMETEK.

2. We understand and agree that US export and sanction laws and regulations remain applicable to goods and technical data / technology exported from the US, even: (a) after such goods and technical data / technology come to rest in a foreign location; and (b) when such goods and technical data / technology are exported from one foreign location to another foreign location (re-exports); and (c) when such goods and technical data / technology are incorporated into foreign manufactured goods at or exceeding the regulatory-prescribed 25% de minimis levels.
3. We take full responsibility not to divert, transship, transfer, re-sell or re-export the products we purchase from AMETEK: (a) to parties that are prohibited or restricted under applicable US export and sanctions laws and regulations; (b) to destination countries that have been designated by the US as prohibited or restricted countries under applicable US export and sanctions laws and regulations; and (c) for use in end uses that are prohibited or restricted end uses under applicable US export and sanctions laws and regulations such as: (i) nuclear end uses; (ii) missile end uses; (iii) chemical or biological weapons end uses; (iv) military end uses in Belarus, Burma, Cambodia, China, Russia or Venezuela; (v) manufacturing of supercomputers in China or Macau; or (vi) manufacturing of integrated circuits at a semiconductor fabrication facility in China or Macau.
4. We understand and agree that violations of US export US export and sanction laws and regulations are subject to monetary penalties and possible denial of future US exports.
5. Lastly, we confirm that: (a) all certifications we make in this End Use & End User Statement are true and correct, to the best of our knowledge, information and belief; and (b) this certification is being signed on behalf of Distributor / OEM by an authorized signer designated by Distributor / OEM.
